Required Textbooks

Juntunen, C. and Schwartz, J. (2016) Counseling Across the Lifespan: Prevention and Treatment. Thousand Oaks, CA: Sage Publications ISBN: 978-1483343778

Recommended Reading

Berk, L. (2018). Development Through the Lifespan. 7th edition. Pearson: Hoboken, NJ.

It is expected that students have a basic understanding of foundational developmental stages as would be appropriate in an undergraduate Developmental course. This information will be included in lectures, but should students feel their knowledge in this area is limited, it may be beneficial for them to reference an undergraduate developmental textbook as well.

Additional articles and readings will be assigned and provided to students via Canvas weekly Modules throughout the semester.

Course Requirements and Assignments

- A. Three Quizzes (50 points): There will be three quizzes over the course of the semester administered through Canvas. Each quiz will cover material primarily from the text, but may also include information from lectures, and other required reading items. Quizzes will be composed of multiple choice questions. Students are permitted to use any course materials when taking a quiz, but there will be time limit of 75 minutes to complete each quiz. Thus, students should appropriately prepare for and study for the quizzes in order to complete them in the allotted time. Quizzes must be completed by 11:59pm on the assigned due date. No late quizzes will be graded without prior approval from the instructor.
- B. Discussion Papers (50 points): Students will complete 4 discussion papers considering a variety of topics and/or case studies throughout the semester. These papers are meant to push students to consider sometimes difficult topics and their personal reaction to a variety of subjects throughout the course. These papers are meant to challenge the student to discuss key theoretical components as well as one's own personal Worldview about these conflictual topics. Students' papers should evidence appropriate thoughtfulness and discussion of their personal attitudes and attitudes and perspectives as well as incorporation of theoretical information presented in the text and lecture (so that your subject matter understanding can be assessed). Some topics may be difficult for you to consider and discuss, but it is vital that you spend sufficient time reflecting on your personal reactions to controversial or difficult topics of discussion within the developmental cycle of life. Length expectations are for minimum of half a page per question (total assignment length will likely be 3 pages at a minimum, but can be longer depending on student's discussion). Grades on this assignment will be a reflection of your own thoughtfulness about each discussion topic as well as the extent to which you display solid understanding of the theoretical information presented in the book, lectures, and additional required readings. Keep in mind these assignments are not just a discussion of your personal beliefs, but need to reflect an understanding on your part of the information presented in the course materials as well as your personal reaction to those concepts (which would then also be a reflection of your personal beliefs).
- C. Research Paper (100 points): Students will be expected to choose a theory or organizing topic discussed over the course of the semester and to research current thinking, theoretical understanding, and research topics related to that topic. Many of the theories and concepts in developmental psychology were developed a number of years ago, so the idea of this task is to consider how the foundational theories are currently being conceived of and applied in present day settings. Students are expected to choose the topic for their research paper and get approval from the instructor to insure the topic rises to the expectations for this assignment. Some ideas of past successfully composed papers are: A) comparison of traditional classroom setting versus constructivistic setting (creative projects, seating arrangements, self-pacing, etc) and the potential complications inherent in attempting to be creative in current educational benchmark expectations. B) Discussion of the complications of extending launching period and prolonging adolescent stage dependence on parents further into adulthood and how this impacts family relationship dynamics. C) End of life care and self-choice, consider legalizing euthanasia versus perspective that all life is precious. These are only some ideas which have been explored by past students. Students are encouraged to explore topics which are meaningful to them as well as important to potential anticipated future work. The point is to choose a topic which is actively being researched or discussed in the present in a meaningful way to change or improve our understanding of the subject matter.

Papers must be based in current theoretical knowledge and research and as such should incorporate a minimum of 10 current professional references (of which your textbook can be one). While textbooks from other courses can be utilized, the majority of references are expected to incorporate current professional research articles from the field, published within the last 10 years. Websites, public domain information, or popular literature are not considered professional publications and are not to be utilized as references. Papers should be 8-10 pages in written length (written length is the body of the paper) and should evidence historical theoretical foundational knowledge, current research within the field, as well as compare/contrast secular and Christian worldview perspectives regarding the topic chosen. Papers are required to be submitted in .docx through the Canvas link so that they can be screened for plagiarism through Canvas' tools. APA formatting is required and will be a graded component of this assignment. Questions regarding APA formatting can be directed to Dr. Burgess during office hours or assistance sought from the writing lab. Minor problems with citations or quotations will be met with loss of points; however, egregious plagiarism of quotations or paraphrasing without appropriate citations to give credit to the original author(s) may incur significant loss of points up to and including receiving a 0 on this assignment. Students are encouraged to seek help from the writing lab if they are unclear on how to appropriately cite quoted or paraphrased information.

Course/Classroom Policies and Information

Internet use is required to complete several experiential assignments and demonstration throughout the course of the semester. These can be completed either on campus or remotely depending on the individual students' needs. All assignments and weekly information will be provided to students via Canvas so that students might arrive to class prepared, having completed all prior tasks and assignments prior to arrival in class. Class participation is required regularly in order to earn full participation credit. See class attendance policy below for additional details.

LATE WORK - All assignments are expected on or before the deadline indicated in the syllabus. If unforeseen, extenuating circumstances arrives, students should contact me as soon as possible in order to discuss the potential impact of the situation. In general, late assignments will not be accepted without prior approval from the instructor, and then may incur a penalty depending on the circumstances. It is strongly encouraged that students not wait until the day before a due date to submit assignments or complete tests through Canvas. IT issues may jeopardize your ability to complete the assignment by the due date, and extensions for technical issues are typically not granted unless the problem is extensive and affects class wide availability. Waiting to submit an assignment until just before class begins and then experiencing IT issues DOES NOT automatically guarantee your assignment will be accepted. Late work not given prior approval to be submitted after the due date will be given a grade of 0.

CELL PHONES - All cell phones and any other electronic equipment should be turned off or placed on silent during class. Any electronic device used in class to take notes must likewise be put into silent mode (including the keyboard functions) in order to minimize the disruption to one's classmates. Should one's electronic device become a distraction to the class, the instructor reserves the right to request that it be turned off during class times.

ASSIGNMENT SUBMISSIONS – All assigned work and quizzes must be completed through Canvas and be submitted prior to beginning of class time (do not email written assignments. Upload your .docx files through Canvas). Assignments not submitted by the start of class, may not be accepted for grading. It is strongly encouraged that students not wait until the last minute to submit graded work. It is the instructor's preference that students submit all work in .docx format for uniformity of submission. It is strongly encouraged that students submit all work consistent with APA formatting as it is considered a standard presentation format within the field. However, APA formatting is not a requirement on the shorter response papers. It is a graded element on the longer research paper and lack of attention to this component will likely cost students a letter grade on the assignment.

Extra credit work is not permitted. Students are expected to plan and execute assigned work sufficiently throughout the semester to earn the grade they wish from the course. Students are welcome to seek tutoring or additional help from Dr. Burgess during office hours at any point during the semester (appointments are recommended). If students are not scoring well on quizzes or written work, Dr. Burgess is very accessible to discuss ways in which the student may improve scores on future work. .

COMMUNICATION WITH DR. BURGESS - My goal is to respond to email within 24 hours during the week and within 48 hours on the weekend. Should you have a pressing question or more immediate issue, you are welcome to text me, but recognize it may still take some time for me to respond to questions asked. As such, students are strongly encouraged to begin assigned tasks well before the due date so as not to jeopardize completion of an assignment on time because of technology problems or other complications. I strive to have all papers graded within 5 days of the due date for a written assignment. This allows for expedient feedback which students can integrate into future assignments. If texting, students are asked to be respectful of the time of day. Due to the potential for emergencies with active therapy clients, my cell phone is on audible throughout the night. Please make every effort to only text me during reasonable time periods during the day. Students are also encouraged to schedule an appointment during my office hours to discuss questions, concerns, or guidance they may need. Voicemails left on my official campus voicemail will be checked during office hours only. If your issue is pressing and cannot wait, texting or emailing is likely going to get you a quicker response.

Class Attendance

Students are responsible for enrolling in courses for which they anticipate being able to attend every class session on the day and time appearing on course schedules, and then making every effort to do so. When unavoidable situations result in absence or tardiness, students are responsible for acquiring any information missed. Instructors are not obliged to allow students to make up missed work. Per their independent discretion, individual instructors may determine how attendance affects students' ability to meet course learning objectives and whether attendance affects course grades.

Students are expected to attend class regularly. Missing more than 2 class periods without obtaining prior approval from Dr. Burgess, will result in loss of one letter grade from your overall end of class total. On the weeks where we will be meeting via zoom, the bulk of the lecture material will be presented via zoom video and will be available on Canvas by Friday morning. Students will be expected to listen to the lecture in advance of the zoom meeting on Tuesday evening. On the days where a zoom meeting is indicated, we will meet for a live zoom discussion of the material at 7:30pm for approximately 1 hour. During the live zoom meetings, students are expected to dial into zoom by the start time and are expected to have their camera active throughout the zoom conference in order to be counted as 'present'. Students are expected to actively participate in the zoom discussion based upon their review of the week's lecture and reading materials. I would encourage all students to take notes during the lecture and when reading to have talking points and/or highlight questions to be addressed during the live zoom meeting. Any questions about this expectation should be directed to Dr. Burgess in advance to the extent possible.

Grading Scale

A	93-100	4.0 grade points per semester hour
A-	90-92	3.7 grade points per semester hour
B+	87-89	3.3 grade points per semester hour
B	83-86	3.0 grade points per semester hour
B-	80-82	2.7 grade points per semester hour

D	63-66	1.0 grade point per semester hour
D-	60-62	0.7 grade points per semester hour
F	0-59	0.0 grade points per semester hour

Incomplete Grades

Students requesting a grade of Incomplete (I) must understand that incomplete grades may be given only upon approval of the faculty member involved. An "I" may be assigned only when a student is currently passing a course and in situations involving extended illness, serious injury, death in the family, or employment or government reassignment, not student neglect.

Students are responsible for contacting their instructors prior to the end of the semester, plus filing the appropriate completed and approved academic request form with the Registrar's Office. The "I" must be removed (by completing the remaining course requirements) no later than 60 calendar days after the close of the term or semester in which the grade was awarded, or the "I" will become an "F."

Academic Honesty

Absolute truth is an essential belief and basis of behavior for those who believe in a God who cannot lie and forbids falsehood. Academic honesty is the application of the principle of truth in the classroom setting. Academic honesty includes the basic premise that all work submitted by students must be their own and any ideas derived or copied from elsewhere must be carefully documented.

Academic dishonesty includes, but is not limited to:

- cheating of any kind,
- submitting, without proper approval, work originally prepared by the student for another course,
- plagiarism, which is the submitting of work prepared by someone else as if it were his own, and
- failing to credit sources properly in written work.

Students are expected to submit original work to this course and not to submit written work, in part or whole, developed by another person or submitted for grading to a prior course. Plagiarism software will be utilized to evaluate the uniqueness and authenticity of the students' work prior to grading any written assignments. Any paper which evidences plagiarism (failing to give proper credit to source of quoted or paraphrased information) will be given a zero without the opportunity to redo the assignment.

Institutional Assessment

Material submitted by students in this course may be used for assessment of the college's academic programs. Since programmatic and institutional assessment is done without reference to specific students, the results of these assessments have no effect on a student's course grade or academic standing at the college. Before submitting a student's work for this type of assessment, the course instructor redacts the work to remove anything that identifies the student.

Institutional Email Policy

All official college email communications to students enrolled in this course will be sent exclusively to students' institutional email accounts. Students are expected to check their student email accounts regularly and to respond in an appropriate and timely manner to all communications from faculty and administrative departments.

Students are permitted to setup automatic forwarding of emails from their student email accounts to one or more personal email accounts. The student is responsible to setup and maintain email forwarding without assistance from college staff. If a student chooses to use this forwarding option, he/she will continue to be responsible for responding appropriately to all communications from faculty and administrative departments of the college. Criswell College bears no responsibility for the use of emails that have been forwarded from student email accounts to other email accounts.

Disabilities

Criswell College recognizes and supports the standards set forth in Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) of 1990, and similar state laws, which are designed to eliminate discrimination against qualified individuals with disabilities. Criswell College is committed to making reasonable accommodations for qualifying students, faculty, and employees with disabilities as required by applicable laws. For more information, please contact the Student Services Office.

Intellectual Property Rights

Unless otherwise specifically instructed in writing by the instructor, students must neither materially nor digitally reproduce materials from any course offered by Criswell College for or with the significant possibility of distribution.

Pastoral and certified counseling services are also available to Criswell students. Appointments are scheduled through the Dean of Students, at deanofstudents@criswell.edu.

Wallace Library: Students can access academic resources and obtain research assistance by contacting or visiting the Wallace Library, which is located on campus. For more information, email the Wallace Library at library@criswell.edu. Offsite login information is available in Canvas in the “Criswell Student Training Course” under “Library Information.”

Tutoring Center: Students are encouraged to consult with tutors to improve and enhance their skills and confidence in any subject matter taught at the college. Tutors have been recommended by the faculty to ensure that the tutor(s) are qualified to serve the student body. Every tutor brings experience and expertise in an effort to provide the proper resources for the subject matter at hand. To consult with a tutor, students can visit the Tutoring Center located on the second floor in room E203, or schedule an appointment by emailing tutoringcenter@criswell.edu or by calling 214.818.1373.

Human Growth and Development

In the event that Criswell College has to close the campus to on-campus classes in during the FA-20 semester, this addendum specifies how your instructor intends to adjust the course in order to allow students to meet the course objectives.

The course requirements, assignments, calendar, and attendance requirements from the syllabus for this course are replicated below. Notes and changes to the information in syllabus are highlighted. Information that is no longer relevant is indicated with a ~~strike through the font~~ and replacement or new information is placed in italics.

Course Requirements and Assignments

No change to this requirement

Three Quizzes (50 points): There will be three quizzes over the course of the semester administered through Canvas. Each quiz will cover material primarily from the text, but may also include information from lectures, and other required reading items. Quizzes will be composed of multiple choice questions. Students are permitted to use any course materials when taking a quiz, but there will be time limit of 75 minutes to complete each quiz. Discussion Papers (50 points): Students will complete 4 discussion papers considering a variety of topics and/or case studies throughout the semester. These papers are meant to push students to consider sometimes difficult topics and their personal reaction to a variety of subjects throughout the course. These papers are meant to challenge the student to discuss key theoretical components as well as one's own personal Worldview about these conflictual topics. Students' papers should evidence appropriate thoughtfulness and discussion of their personal attitudes and attitudes and perspectives as well as incorporation of theoretical information presented in the text and lecture (so that your subject matter understanding can be assessed). Some topics may be difficult for you to consider and discuss, but it is vital that you spend sufficient time reflecting on your personal reactions to controversial or difficult topics of discussion within the developmental cycle of life. Length expectations are for minimum of half a page per question (total assignment length will likely be 3 pages at a minimum, but can be longer depending on student's discussion). Grades on this assignment will be a reflection of your own thoughtfulness about each discussion topic as well as the extent to which you display solid understanding of the theoretical information presented in the book, lectures, and additional required readings. Keep in mind these assignments are not just a discussion of your personal beliefs, but need to reflect an understanding on your part of the information presented in the course materials as well as your personal reaction to those concepts (which would then also be a reflection of your personal beliefs).

Research Paper (100 points): Students will be expected to choose a theory or organizing topic discussed over the course of the semester and to research current thinking, theoretical understanding, and research topics related to that topic. Many of the theories and concepts in developmental psychology were developed a number of years ago, so the idea of this task is to consider how the foundational theories are currently being conceived of and applied in present day settings. Students are expected to choose the topic for their research paper and get approval from the instructor to insure the topic rises to the expectations for this assignment. Some ideas of past successfully composed papers are: A) comparison of traditional classroom setting versus constructivistic setting (creative projects, seating arrangements, self-pacing, etc) and the potential complications inherent in attempting to be creative in current educational benchmark expectations. B) Discussion of the complications of extending launching period and prolonging adolescent stage dependence on parents further into adulthood and how this impacts family relationship dynamics. C) End of life care and self-choice, consider legalizing euthanasia versus perspective that all life is precious. These are only some ideas which have been explored by past students. Students are encouraged to explore topics which are meaningful to them as well as important to potential anticipated future work. The point is to choose a topic which is actively being researched or discussed in the present in a meaningful way to change or improve our understanding of the subject matter.

Papers must be based in current theoretical knowledge and research and as such should incorporate a minimum of 10 current professional references (of which your textbook can be one). While textbooks from other courses can be utilized, the majority of references are expected to incorporate current professional research articles from the field, published within the last 10 years. Websites, public domain information, or popular literature are not considered professional publications and are not to be utilized as references. Papers should be 8-10 pages in written length (written length is the body of the paper) and should evidence historical theoretical foundational knowledge, current research within the field, as well as compare/contrast secular and Christian worldview perspectives regarding the topic chosen. Papers are required to be submitted in .docx through the Canvas link so that they can be screened for plagiarism through Canvas' tools. APA formatting is required and will be a graded component of this assignment. Questions regarding APA formatting can be directed to Dr. Burgess during office hours or assistance sought from the writing lab. Minor problems with citations or quotations will be met with loss of points; however, egregious plagiarism of quotations or paraphrasing without appropriate citations to give credit to the original author(s) may incur significant loss of points up to and including receiving a 0 on this assignment. Students are encouraged to seek help from the writing lab if they are unclear on how to appropriately cite quoted or paraphrased information.

Class Attendance

Students are expected to attend class regularly. Missing more than 2 class periods without obtaining prior approval from Dr. Burgess, will result in loss of one letter grade from your overall end of class total. ~~On the weeks where we will be meeting via zoom,~~ If circumstances necessitate moving classes 100% online, all future lectures will be presented through asynchronous zoom videos combined with partial live discussions. The bulk of the lecture material will be presented via zoom video and will be available on Canvas by Friday morning. Students will be expected to listen to the lecture in advance of the zoom meeting on Tuesday evening. On the days where a zoom meeting is indicated, we will meet for a live zoom discussion of the material at 7:30pm for approximately 1 hour. During the live zoom meetings, students are expected to dial into zoom by the start time and are expected to have their camera active throughout the zoom conference in order to be counted as 'present'. Students are expected to actively participate in the zoom discussion based upon their review of the week's lecture and reading materials. I would encourage all students to take notes during the lecture and when reading to have talking points and/or highlight questions to be addressed during the live zoom meeting. Any questions about this expectation should be directed to Dr. Burgess in advance to the extent possible.

Remote Class Sessions: Identity and Participation Verification

During the live zoom meetings, students are expected to dial into zoom by the start time and are expected to have their camera active throughout the zoom conference. Students are expected to actively participate in the zoom discussion based upon their review of the week's lecture. I would encourage all students to take notes during the lecture to have talking points and/or questions during the live zoom meeting. Students will earn credit for attending by either being in class on an assigned day or logging into a Zoom live conference on a remote learning day. Students are expected to enable their camera throughout the live conference, unless there is a connectivity reason prohibiting this, in which case students should discuss this in advance with Dr. Burgess. Any questions about this expectation should be directed to Dr. Burgess in advance to the extent possible.
