Course Requirements and Assignments

Reading Assignments (50%)

Students will read and complete the assigned reading according to the class schedule. A reading report indicating the percentage of reading completed will be recorded by students in Canvas twice: the first will be prior to the midterm exam (Due 10/13) and the second will be prior to our last class meeting (Due 12/1). Note that it is expected for students to read the required texts critically and for comprehension. Comprehension of the required texts will be demonstrated on the midterm and final exams.

Midterm Exam (15%)

The midterm exam will cover the Patristic Period through the Reformation Period and will be over the required reading and class lectures up to that point. Note that no texts, notes, or other helps are allowed in the taking of the exam. The nature of the midterm is short essay with students responding to two questions. The questions will be unlocked in Canvas when the student begins the exam and the student will have 60 minutes to complete the exam in one sitting. The midterm exam must be taken within the allotted period (10/19–10/23). Criteria for grading will be: clarity, accuracy, response to key arguments, and depth of thinking.

Final Exam (15%)

The final exam will cover the Modern Period up to the Present Day and will be over the required reading and class lectures. Note that no texts, notes, or other helps are allowed in the taking of the exam. The nature of the final is short essay with students responding to two questions. The questions will be unlocked in Canvas when the student begins the exam and the student will have 60 minutes to complete the exam in one sitting. The final exam must be taken within Finals Week (12/7–12/11). Criteria for grading will be: clarity, accuracy, response to key arguments, and depth of thinking.

Paper (20%)

Students will write a 7–10 page response paper to Bruce Shelley's Church History in Plain Language. You are to identify and exposit the top five points that have made the most personal impact in furthering your comprehension of church history (5–7 pages) and provide personal and ministry application points of this material (2–3). The response paper is Due 12/1.

Due Dates and Late Assignments

Exams must be taken within the allotted period of time (5 days) and the response paper will not be accepted past the last day of class (12/1). The two reading reports need to be recorded by the respective deadlines (10/13 and 12/1) in order for students to receive credit. Please note: no assignments will be accepted past the assigned due dates.

Class Attendance

Students are responsible for enrolling in courses for which they anticipate being able to attend every class session on the day and time appearing on course schedules, and then making every effort to do so. When unavoidable situations result in absence or tardiness, students are responsible for acquiring any information missed. Instructors are not obliged to allow students to make up missed work. Per their independent discretion, individual instructors may determine how attendance affects students' ability to meet course learning objectives and whether attendance affects course grades.

An "I" may be assigned only when a student is currently passing a course and in situations involving extended illness, serious injury, death in the family, or employment or government reassignment, not student neglect.

Students are responsible for contacting their instructors prior to the end of the semester, plus filing the appropriate completed and approved academic request form with the Registrar's Office. The "I" must be removed (by completing the remaining course requirements) no later than 60 calendar days after the close of the term or semester in which the grade was awarded, or the "I" will become an "F."

Academic Honesty

Absolute truth is an essential belief and basis of behavior for those who believe in a God who cannot lie and forbids falsehood. Academic honesty is the application of the principle of truth in the classroom setting. Academic honesty includes the basic premise that all work submitted by students must be their own and any ideas derived or copied from elsewhere must be carefully documented.

Academic dishonesty includes, but is not limited to:

- cheating of any kind,
- submitting, without proper approval, work originally prepared by the student for another course,
- plagiarism, which is the submitting of work prepared by someone else as if it were his own, and
- failing to credit sources properly in written work.

Institutional Assessment

Material submitted by students in this course may be used for assessment of the college's academic programs. Since programmatic and institutional assessment is done without reference to specific students, the results of these assessments have no effect on a student's course grade or academic standing at the college. Before submitting a student's work for this type of assessment, the course instructor redacts the work to remove anything that identifies the student.

Institutional Email Policy

All official college email communications to students enrolled in this course will be sent exclusively to students' institutional email accounts. Students are expected to check their student email accounts regularly and to respond in an appropriate and timely manner to all communications from faculty and administrative departments.

Students are permitted to setup automatic forwarding of emails from their student email accounts to one or more personal email accounts. The student is responsible to setup and maintain email forwarding without assistance from college staff. If a student chooses to use this forwarding option, he/she will continue to be responsible for responding appropriately to all communications from faculty and administrative departments of the college. Criswell College bears no responsibility for the use of emails that have been forwarded from student email accounts to other email accounts.

Disabilities

Criswell College recognizes and supports the standards set forth in Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) of 1990, and similar state laws, which are designed to eliminate discrimination against qualified individuals with disabilities. Criswell College is committed to making reasonable accommodations for qualifying students, faculty, and employees with disabilities as required by applicable laws. For more information, please contact the Student Services Office.

ADDENDUM FOR FA-20

THS 201 FA.L2

Church History

In the event that Criswell College has to close the campus to on-campus classes in during the FA-20 semester, this addendum specifies how your instructor intends to adjust the course in order to allow students to meet the course objectives.

Course Requirements and Assignments

Course requirements and assignments remain unchanged. Both reading reports, midterm exam, final exam, and response paper are uploaded remotely via Canvas, so there are no issues.

Remote Class Sessions: Identity and Participation Verification

In the case where it is no longer possible to meet for in-person instruction, the professor will record an abridged version of the required lectures via Zoom in Canvas. Students will then be required to watch the lecture videos in Canvas and report lecture attendance on the lecture attendance reporting page in Canvas by 11:59 pm on the day of the scheduled class meeting. If students have any questions about the content, they should email the professor.

In the case where a student must miss in-person class time due to COVID-19 related issues, the student will attend class remotely via Zoom in Canvas.
