2. Darrel Bock and Ben Simpson. Jesus the God-Man: The Unity and Diversity of the Gospel Portrayals. Grand Rapids: Baker, 2016.

Course Requirements and Assignments

1. Weekly reading and writing (50%): Students will be assigned reading for each class period and weekly writing assignments connected to the reading. These writing assignments are designed to guide the student in summarizing, absorbing, and reflecting on the reading. Each week's assignment will be posted on Canvas and may include completing workbook pages and/or questions or writing prompts in a Canvas quiz. The writing assignments will be open-book and are due by class time on Thursdays. The lowest two grades will be dropped.
2. Exam 1 (20%): The exam falls mid semester and covers intertestamental history, Jewish context, and Jewish literature. Students will be provided a detailed study guide and the specifics will be discussed in class. Exams are taken on Canvas.
3. Exam 2 (20%): The second exam will be taken during finals week and covers the material from the second unit (Canon, Gospels, and Acts). Students will be provided a detailed study guide and the specifics will be discussed in class. Exams are taken on Canvas.
4. Class participation (10%): Students are expected to be present and attentive during class time. Class participation points are awarded based on attendance (see attendance policy) and appropriate class interaction. This assessment takes into account various personality styles and learning differences.

Course/Classroom Policies and Information

1. Be present, attentive, and respectful during class time. Avoid excessive tardiness.
2. Silence all devices during class time and put away distractions (social media, games, etc.). Please only respond to emergency messages or calls.
3. Avoid distracting your classmates and/or professor. If you must leave the room during class time or you arrive late, please do so as quietly as possible. If you need to talk to your classmates, wait for the break or after class. If the professor has to speak with you about disrupting class, you've already lost points.
4. Questions about the topic at hand are welcome and enhance the learning experience for the whole class. Do not hesitate to ask questions during class. For "off-topic" questions unrelated to the course or the unit being studied, the professor is happy to discuss outside of class time. Speak with the professor to arrange an appointment.
5. Follow Canvas carefully for daily assignments and course schedule.
6. When uploading assignments to Canvas, use scanned/PDF documents or Microsoft Word documents rather than JPEG or pictures.
7. Late assignments will receive a 10 point deduction for each day late. Turning in an assignment after the time it is due but on the due date = one day late.
8. You are required to follow all COVID guidelines set by the college while in our classroom.
When working remotely:
10. Obtain the appropriate accommodation from Students Services for remote learning. In emergencies or special circumstances, you may email the professor to request one day of remote learning.
11. Join the Zoom call at least five minutes early to address any issues. Join with your video on if possible.
12. Be prepared to navigate Canvas and Zoom, print materials, and scan and upload assignments.

Class Attendance

Students are responsible for enrolling in courses for which they anticipate being able to attend every class session on the day and time appearing on course schedules, and then making every effort to do so. When unavoidable situations result in absence or tardiness, students are responsible for acquiring any information missed. Instructors are not obliged to allow students to make up missed work. Per their independent discretion, individual instructors may determine how attendance affects students' ability to meet course learning objectives and whether attendance affects course grades.

Up to two excused absences will be allowed for emergencies (sickness, etc.) Unexcused or excessive absences will impact the student's class participation grade. More than three absences will result in a full letter grade reduction.

Incomplete Grades

Students requesting a grade of Incomplete (I) must understand that incomplete grades may be given only upon approval of the faculty member involved. An "I" may be assigned only when a student is currently passing a course and in situations involving extended illness, serious injury, death in the family, or employment or government reassignment, not student neglect.

Students are responsible for contacting their instructors prior to the end of the semester, plus filing the appropriate completed and approved academic request form with the Registrar's Office. The "I" must be removed (by completing the remaining course requirements) no later than 60 calendar days after the close of the term or semester in which the grade was awarded, or the "I" will become an "F."

Academic Honesty

Absolute truth is an essential belief and basis of behavior for those who believe in a God who cannot lie and forbids falsehood. Academic honesty is the application of the principle of truth in the classroom setting. Academic honesty includes the basic premise that all work submitted by students must be their own and any ideas derived or copied from elsewhere must be carefully documented.

Academic dishonesty includes, but is not limited to:

- cheating of any kind,
- submitting, without proper approval, work originally prepared by the student for another course,
- plagiarism, which is the submitting of work prepared by someone else as if it were his own, and
- failing to credit sources properly in written work.

Institutional Assessment

Material submitted by students in this course may be used for assessment of the college's academic programs. Since programmatic and institutional assessment is done without reference to specific students, the results of these assessments have no effect on a student's course grade or academic standing at the college. Before submitting a student's work for this type of assessment, the course instructor redacts the work to remove anything that identifies the student.

Institutional Email Policy

All official college email communications to students enrolled in this course will be sent exclusively to students' institutional email accounts. Students are expected to check their student email accounts regularly and to respond in an appropriate and timely manner to all communications from faculty and administrative departments.

Students are permitted to setup automatic forwarding of emails from their student email accounts to one or more personal email accounts. The student is responsible to setup and maintain email forwarding without assistance from college staff. If a student chooses to use this forwarding option, he/she will continue to be responsible for responding appropriately to all communications from faculty and administrative departments of the college. Criswell College bears no responsibility for the use of emails that have been forwarded from student email accounts to other email accounts.

Disabilities

Criswell College recognizes and supports the standards set forth in Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) of 1990, and similar state laws, which are designed to eliminate discrimination against qualified individuals with disabilities. Criswell College is committed to making reasonable accommodations for qualifying students, faculty, and employees with disabilities as required by applicable laws. For more information, please contact the Student Services Office.

Intellectual Property Rights

Unless otherwise specifically instructed in writing by the instructor, students must neither materially nor digitally reproduce materials from any course offered by Criswell College for or with the significant possibility of distribution.
