Upon completion of the course, you should be able to do the following:

- Locate on a timeline these OT books and the major OT events and characters;
- Explain how each book fits into the historical context of the OT timeline and its theological context in the history of redemption;
- Describe the occasion (purpose), message (theme), and structure (general outline) of each book;
- Identify the basic literary genres present and explain their function;
- Outline a summary survey of the content of each book;
- Identify the basic interpretative and critical issues, particularly authorship/composition and date; and
- Present research on a topic from this section of Scripture

Required Textbooks

- The Holy Bible. Yes, bring a Bible to class. I will use the NKJV and ESV.
- Hill, Andrew E., and John H. Walton. A Survey of the Old Testament. 3d ed. Grand Rapids: Zondervan, 2009. (ISBN 9780310280958)
- Hill, Andrew E., and John H. Walton. A Survey of the Old Testament: Video Lectures. Grand Rapids: Zondervan Academic, 2016. (ASIN: 0310525373) [Note: the library has these videos if you cannot purchase them; demand for these increases toward the end of the semester, so it would be good to start them early.]

Course Requirements and Assignments

- A. 4 exams. The exams come from the lectures and notes (not the textbook) and are in multiple-choice, true-false, and matching format. You have access to the tests on Canvas through your student portal. Tests are late after 11:59 p.m. at the end of the due date. Late assignments lose 5 points per day, including weekends, and after 7 days late will be awarded a grade of zero. You are permitted 60 minutes for each one. They are not open-book exams:
1. History, poetry, and Job through Proverbs
 2. Ecclesiastes through Hosea (Eccl, SS, prophets, Jon, Amos, Hos)
 3. Isaiah through Obadiah (Isa, Mic, Nah, Zeph, Hab, Jer, Lam, Obad)
 4. Ezekiel through Malachi (Ezek, Dan, Hag, Joel, Zech, Mal)
- B. Quizzes. There are ten 15-minute quizzes with ten or eleven multiple-choice and true-false questions, based on the reading from the textbook by Hill and Walton. Although the reading assignment below includes all chapter relating to the course, the quizzes are on only some of the chapters. The lowest quiz score will be dropped when calculating your average score. The quizzes will be taken on your student portal on Canvas and are due by 11:59 p.m. on the scheduled date. See the Course Outline for due dates and which textbook chapters are on each quiz. You may have your textbook open for these quizzes, but if you don't know an answer, you need to know quickly where to look, since the quiz will close on you. Late assignments lose 5 points per day, including weekends, and after 7 days late will be awarded a grade of zero.
- C. Bible Reading. Read Job through Malachi in a version of your choice and report the reading on the Bible Reading Report available on Canvas. You may use a language other than English. If undistracted this reading takes approximately 25-30 hours. Approximately five chapters make one percent of the assignment. Late assignments lose 5 points per day. The due date is December 8.
- D. Reading Hill and Walton. Read this textbook, pp. 375-750, and report the pages read on the Textbook Reading Report on Canvas. We do not cover the chapters in canonical order, but chronological. The quizzes above will not be on all the chapters of Hill and Walton, but you are to read all the chapters for this assignment. Late assignments lose 5 points per day, including weekends, and after 7 days late will be awarded a grade of zero. The due date is December 1.
- E. Write a double-spaced, five- to seven-page research paper on one of the OT topics on Canvas, following Turabian style guide. Use the Turabian footnote/bibliography reference method, not APA, MLA, or any other parenthetical reference/works cited method. See the due dates on the class schedule near the end of the syllabus. Late assignments lose 5 points per day, including weekends, and after 7 days late will be awarded a grade of zero.

The assignment has three stages:

1. Topic—see the list of options; you may suggest a different one subject to the teacher's approval. The due date is September 6.
2. Bibliography—list at least six scholarly sources that include at least one journal article (a book article does not qualify) and one Bible dictionary or encyclopedia, all in proper

Turabian format. See the file on Canvas describing the difference between scholarly and popular sources. The due date is October 4.

- 3. Introduction. The introduction for a research paper must include these three elements:
1. The thesis you want to prove (so you are giving an argument for some conclusion) or the question you want to answer. This should be expressed in a single sentence and then remain the focus of your writing, thus keeping your writing organized and avoiding unnecessary tangents. To do this well, you will need to read some of the bibliographic sources to see if the proof or answer can be accomplished.
 2. The reason the topic is interesting or important to you and to your audience. This may be because the topic is controversial, important for understanding other interesting or important matters, has significant implications for current issues, etc. Your bibliographic sources can help you discover this.
 3. The structure or procedure of the body of the paper. In one sentence state what topics you will write about and the order you will write about them as you seek to answer the question or prove your thesis. After considering your bibliographic sources, you should have a good idea of how to plan the structure of your paper.

The due date is October 25

Very important note: After reading your sources, you may conclude you can better prove a different thesis or answer a different question better than your original thoughts on the subject. Therefore, the introduction in the paper may differ from your original intention in this assignment.

- 4. Research paper–The due date is November 17

- F. Listening to and summarizing Hill and Walton. Watch 12 of the last 28 lectures (from lecture 20 through 47) in the video series A Survey of the Old Testament: Video Lectures and write one paragraph about what you learned from 6 of the 12 lectures. The paragraph must be at least 100 words. The videos are on reserve in the library; of course, you may purchase your own. Students who have waited until the end of the semester, have had trouble scheduling the videos because other students also waited. To plan your time, you can find the length of each lecture on Amazon: when you locate the video, click on the picture and scroll down the page. Late assignments lose 5 points per day. The due date is December 8.

Class Attendance

Students are responsible for enrolling in courses for which they anticipate being able to attend every class session on the day and time appearing on course schedules, and then making every effort to do so. When unavoidable situations result in absence or tardiness, students are responsible for acquiring any information missed. Instructors are not obliged to allow students to make up missed work. Per their independent discretion, individual instructors may determine how attendance affects students' ability to meet course learning objectives and whether attendance affects course grades.

Campus Closure

To ensure the health and safety of students and employees, college administrators may decide it is necessary on rare occasions to close the campus. Once this decision is announced, instructors will contact students to provide further details regarding the campus closure's impact on those courses. Students are responsible to watch for communication from their instructors and respond appropriately. (Unless otherwise specified by the instructor in this syllabus, this communication will be sent to the student's Criswell College e-mail account.)

In order to make progress toward the courses' objectives, instructors have the freedom during most campus closures to require students to participate in activities as alternatives to meeting on campus. An instructor may, for example, hold class remotely (through Zoom) at the scheduled time, provide a recording of a class or presentation for students to watch independently, or assign other activities that students are to accomplish before returning to campus. Students are responsible for accomplishing these alternative activities as well as any course requirements listed in this syllabus during the period of the campus closure. If, during the period of the campus closure, personal circumstances prohibit a student from accomplishing these alternative activities or course requirements and assignment listed in the syllabus during the campus closure, the student is responsible for communicating with the instructor as soon as possible. Instructors will not penalize students who do not have the means to accomplish the alternative activities during the period of the campus's closure and will work with students whose circumstances during the campus closure prohibited their timely completion of course requirements and assignments in the syllabus.

Incomplete Grades

Students requesting a grade of Incomplete (I) must understand that incomplete grades may be given only upon approval of the faculty member involved. An “I” may be assigned only when a student is currently passing a course and in situations involving extended illness, serious injury, death in the family, or employment or government reassignment, not student neglect.

Students are responsible for contacting their instructors prior to the end of the semester, plus filing the appropriate completed and approved academic request form with the Registrar’s Office. The “I” must be removed (by completing the remaining course requirements) no later than 60 calendar days after the close of the term or semester in which the grade was awarded, or the “I” will become an “F.”

Academic Honesty

Absolute truth is an essential belief and basis of behavior for those who believe in a God who cannot lie and forbids falsehood. Academic honesty is the application of the principle of truth in the classroom setting. Academic honesty includes the basic premise that all work submitted by students must be their own and any ideas derived or copied from elsewhere must be carefully documented.

Academic dishonesty includes, but is not limited to:

- cheating of any kind,
- submitting, without proper approval, work originally prepared by the student for another course,
- plagiarism, which is the submitting of work prepared by someone else as if it were his own, and
- failing to credit sources properly in written work.

Institutional Assessment

Material submitted by students in this course may be used for assessment of the college’s academic programs. Since programmatic and institutional assessment is done without reference to specific students, the results of these assessments have no effect on a student’s course grade or academic standing at the college. Before submitting a student’s work for this type of assessment, the course instructor redacts the work to remove anything that identifies the student.

Institutional Email Policy

All official college email communications to students enrolled in this course will be sent exclusively to students’ institutional email accounts. Students are expected to check their student email accounts regularly and to respond in an appropriate and timely manner to all communications from faculty and administrative departments.

Students are permitted to setup automatic forwarding of emails from their student email accounts to one or more personal email accounts. The student is responsible to setup and maintain email forwarding without assistance from college staff. If a student chooses to use this forwarding option, he/she will continue to be responsible for responding appropriately to all communications from faculty and administrative departments of the college. Criswell College bears no responsibility for the use of emails that have been forwarded from student email accounts to other email accounts.

Disabilities

Criswell College recognizes and supports the standards set forth in Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) of 1990, and similar state laws, which are designed to eliminate discrimination against qualified individuals with disabilities. Criswell College is committed to making reasonable accommodations for qualifying students, faculty, and employees with disabilities as required by applicable laws. For more information, please contact the Student Services Office.

Intellectual Property Rights

Unless otherwise specifically instructed in writing by the instructor, students must neither materially nor digitally reproduce materials from any course offered by Criswell College for or with the significant possibility of distribution.
