Course Description and Prerequisites

A survey of intertestamental history, an introduction to the canon and text of the New Testament, and an introduction to the historical background and content of the Gospels and Acts.

Course Objectives

At the end of the course, the student should be able to:

1. Outline events in Palestine from 586 BC to AD 70 and their significance to the study of the New Testament, with special focus on 323 BC to AD 40.
2. Summarize introductory issues related to the Gospels and Acts, including their historical background and context, and issues related to the canon of the New Testament.
3. Discuss the content and structure of each of the Gospels and Acts.

Required Textbooks

1. A copy of (or digital access to) an English translation of the Bible (or your first language).
2. N. T. Wright and Michael Bird. The New Testament In Its World. Zondervan, 2019. ISBN: 9780310499305 (Ebook or hardcopy)
3. The professor will post notes or link to articles occasionally throughout the semester that are required reading. Make sure to follow Canvas for all assignments.

Recommended Reading

1. James C. VanderKam. An Introduction to Early Judaism. Grand Rapids: William B. Eerdmans, 2001.
2. Darrel Bock and Ben Simpson. Jesus the God-Man: The Unity and Diversity of the Gospel Portrayals. Grand Rapids: Baker, 2016.

Course Requirements and Assignments

1. Weekly reading and quizzes/writing (50%): Students will be assigned reading for each class period and weekly writing assignments connected to the reading. These assignments are designed to guide the student in summarizing, absorbing, and reflecting on the reading. Each week's assignment will be posted on Canvas and may include questions or writing prompts in a Canvas quiz or other writing assignments. The writing assignments will be "open-book" and are due by class time on Thursdays. The lowest two grades will be dropped.
2. Exam 1 (20%): The exam falls mid semester and covers intertestamental history, Jewish context, and Jewish literature. Students will be provided a detailed study guide and the specifics will be discussed in class.
3. Exam 2 (20%): The second exam will be taken during finals week and covers the material from the second unit (Canon, Gospels, and Acts). Students will be provided a detailed study guide and the specifics will be discussed in class.
4. Class participation (10%): Students are expected to be present and attentive during class time. Class participation points are awarded based on attendance (see attendance policy) and appropriate class interaction. This assessment takes into account various personality styles and learning differences. This is a significant portion of your grade—class attendance is important. See the course policies below—students with excessive absences lose these points and thus drop a letter grade for the course.

Course/Classroom Policies and Information

1. Be present, attentive, and respectful during class time. Avoid excessive tardiness.
2. Silence all devices during class time and put away distractions (social media, games, etc.). Please only respond to emergency messages or calls.
3. Avoid distracting your classmates and/or professor. Arrive on time and leave the classroom for emergencies only. Participate in whole class discussions rather than comment to your neighbor. If the professor must speak with you about disrupting class, you've already lost class participation points.
4. Questions about the topic at hand are welcome and enhance the learning experience for the whole class. Do not hesitate to ask questions during class. For "off-topic" questions unrelated to the course or the unit being studied, the professor is happy to discuss outside of class time.
5. Follow Canvas carefully for daily assignments and course schedule.
6. If uploading assignments to Canvas, use scanned/PDF documents or Microsoft Word documents rather than JPEG or pictures.
7. Late assignments will receive a 10 point deduction for each day late. Turning in an assignment after the time it is due but on the due date = one day late.
8. You are required to follow any health and safety guidelines set by the college while in our classroom.
9. Class attendance in NTS101: You are an important part of our class; at the same time, I recognize that life happens. I give you up to three absences for emergencies (sickness, doctor appointments, etc.). Students may use these three absences without contacting the professor and without impact on the class participation grade. Excessive absences beyond these three, tardies, or early exits from class will impact the student's grade. Three tardies equal one absence. More than six absences will result in a full letter grade reduction of the final grade.

10. Pay careful attention to the college's Academic Honesty policy. All work done in this course should be your own. You may not work with other students to complete your work nor should you turn in work composed by any artificial intelligence program.
11. Instructors work closely with the Student Success Manager. To help provide resources to students who may need it most, I will communicate the names of students who have two consecutive absences, low grades, or any other signs that they may be struggling. The Student Success Manager will reach out to these students and help find appropriate resources.

Class Attendance

Students are responsible for enrolling in courses for which they (1) anticipate being able to attend every on-campus class session on the day and time appearing on course schedules, or (2) participating in academically related activities as identified in online-course schedules including synchronous class sessions conducted remotely by video, and then making every effort to do so. When unavoidable situations result in absence or tardiness, students are responsible for acquiring any missed information. Professors are not obliged to allow students to make up missed work. Per their independent discretion, individual professors may determine how attendance affects students' ability to meet course learning objectives and whether attendance affects course grades. Professors apprise students of such information in course syllabi.

Students receiving grants, loans, or scholarships must meet specified requirements of various departments at the college and should consult relevant sections of the Academic Catalog. To ensure such funds will not be forfeited, students are responsible for contacting the proper departments to ascertain any specific course participation requirements and consequences of not meeting such requirements. Students receiving grants, loans, or scholarships should consult the Financial Aid office.

While Criswell College is a non-attendance taking institution, it nevertheless must demonstrate that students begin their courses in order to comply with Federal Aid regulations. Accordingly, students must participate in academically related activities during census periods. Failure to meet this requirement will result in students being administratively dropped from courses.

Academically related activity is defined as any course-related activity that may be used as evidence of attendance. Examples include:

- physical presence in a classroom during a class session with the instructor present,
- participation in a synchronous remote video class session with the instructor present,
- submission of an academic assignment, quiz, or exam,
- participation in an interactive tutorial or computer-assisted instruction,
- participation in a study group or discussion board that is assigned by the instructor,
- documentation showing that the student and a faculty member corresponded about the academic subject of the course.

NOTE: Logging into a Canvas course alone and logging into a Synchronous Online class session without active participation or with the camera off are not considered attendance.

NOTE: A census period begins on the first day of a semester/term and runs through the end of the last day to drop courses. During the census period, attendance data is collected in order to demonstrate compliance with Federal Aid regulations. There is no census period for winter terms since there is no last day to drop courses.

Campus Closure

To ensure the health and safety of students and employees, college administrators may decide it is necessary on rare occasions to close the campus. Once this decision is announced, instructors will contact students to provide further details regarding the campus closure's impact on those courses. Students are responsible to watch for communication from their instructors and respond appropriately. (Unless otherwise specified by the instructor in this syllabus, this communication will be sent to the student's Criswell College e-mail account.)

In order to make progress toward the courses' objectives, instructors have the freedom during most campus closures to require students to participate in activities as alternatives to meeting on campus. An instructor may, for example, hold class remotely (through Zoom) at the scheduled time, provide a recording of a class or presentation for students to watch independently, or assign other activities that students are to accomplish before returning to campus. Students are responsible for accomplishing these alternative activities as well as any course requirements listed in this syllabus during the period of the campus closure. If, during the period of the campus closure, personal circumstances prohibit a student from accomplishing these alternative activities or course requirements and assignment listed in the syllabus during the campus closure, the student is responsible for communicating with the instructor as soon as possible. Instructors will not penalize students who do not have the means to accomplish the alternative activities during the period of the campus's closure and will work with students whose circumstances during the campus closure prohibited their timely completion of course requirements and assignments in the syllabus.

Grading Scale

Incomplete Grades

Students requesting a grade of Incomplete (I) must understand that incomplete grades may be given only upon approval of the faculty member involved. An "I" may be assigned only when a student is currently passing a course and in situations involving extended illness, serious injury, death in the family, or employment or government reassignment, not student neglect.

Students are responsible for contacting their instructors prior to the end of the semester, plus filing the appropriate completed and approved academic request form with the Registrar's Office. The "I" must be removed (by completing the remaining course requirements) no later than 60 calendar days after the close of the term or semester in which the grade was awarded, or the "I" will become an "F."

Academic Honesty

Absolute truth is an essential belief and basis of behavior for those who believe in a God who cannot lie and forbids falsehood. Academic honesty is the application of the principle of truth in the classroom setting. Academic honesty includes the basic premise that all work submitted by students must be their own and any ideas derived or copied from elsewhere must be carefully documented.

Academic dishonesty includes, but is not limited to:

- cheating of any kind,
- submitting, without proper approval, work originally prepared by the student for another course,
- plagiarism, which is the submitting of work prepared by someone else as if it were his own, and
- failing to credit sources properly in written work.

*Academic Honesty in NTS101: In accordance with the college's policy on Academic Honesty, all work submitted for NTS101 should be that of the student's. All quizzes, writing assignments, and tests should be completed on your own without the assistance of anyone or any artificial intelligence program.

Institutional Assessment

Material submitted by students in this course may be used for assessment of the college's academic programs. Since programmatic and institutional assessment is done without reference to specific students, the results of these assessments have no effect on a student's course grade or academic standing at the college. Before submitting a student's work for this type of assessment, the course instructor redacts the work to remove anything that identifies the student.

Institutional Email Policy

All official college email communications to students enrolled in this course will be sent exclusively to students' institutional email accounts. Students are expected to check their student email accounts regularly and to respond in an appropriate and timely manner to all communications from faculty and administrative departments.

Students are permitted to setup automatic forwarding of emails from their student email accounts to one or more personal email accounts. The student is responsible to setup and maintain email forwarding without assistance from college staff. If a student chooses to use this forwarding option, he/she will continue to be responsible for responding appropriately to all communications from faculty and administrative departments of the college. Criswell College bears no responsibility for the use of emails that have been forwarded from student email accounts to other email accounts.

Disabilities

Criswell College recognizes and supports the standards set forth in Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) of 1990, and similar state laws, which are designed to eliminate discrimination against qualified individuals with disabilities. Criswell College is committed to making reasonable accommodations for qualifying students, faculty, and employees with disabilities as required by applicable laws. For more information, please contact the Student Services Office.

Intellectual Property Rights

Unless otherwise specifically instructed in writing by the instructor, students must neither materially nor digitally reproduce materials from any course offered by Criswell College for or with the significant possibility of distribution.

Research and Writing Standards

The default writing style for written assignments in Criswell College Courses is the latest edition of A Manual for Writers of Research Papers, Theses and Dissertations by Kate Turabian. However, instructors are free to require alternative writing styles in their courses. These styles include but are not limited to the American Psychological Association (APA), Chicago Manual of Style, Modern Language Association (MLA), and Society of Biblical Literature (SBL) writing guides.
